HITLER SEIZES DANZIG RULE; BRITAIN SPEEDS UP WAR LAW

World Crisis

Developments in the European crisis today:

BERLIN—Nazi Leader Albert Forster named "gauleiter" or chief of state of the Free City of Danzig, a Hitler-sponsored move which paves way to Anschluss or union with the Reich and the war which Europe's capitals believe will follow overnight; German press charges Poland has mobilized and surrounded Danzig; informed quarters stress belief Foreign Minister Josef Beck of Poland will soon surrender to all of Hitler's demands; all Americans advised to leave Germany.

LONDON—Chamberlain tells Commons Germany demands free hand in eastern Europe and warns war is imminent; cheers greet his statement Britain stands by her pledge to Poland, virtual war dictatorship to be set up in new "emergency powers bill"; Ambassador Kennedy urges all American tourists to leave the British Isles.

PARIS—France calls up fifth reservist class; emergency troops speed to German and Italian frontiers.

ROME—Personal message from President Roosevelt delivered to King of Italy urging peace.

MOSCOW—British and French military missions reported abandoning three-power mutual assistance negotiations; new pact pledges Germany and Russia to stay out of "any other grouping of powers," against either nation.

WARSAW—Poland takes swift steps to face any emergency; more reservists reported called to colors.

WASHINGTON—Only step left open for United States said to be reiteration of desire for peace; President Roosevelt heads back to capital.

Chamberlain Blames War on Hitler

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain declared in the House of Commons today that Adolf Hitler had demanded a free hand for Germany in Eastern Europe and had told Britain any country which interfered was to blame for an ensuing war.

"God knows I have done all that is possible in efforts for peace," said the prime minister after he had declared Britain's obligations to Poland "remain unaffected" by what he called an imminent peril of war.

ASKS DICTATOR POWERS—Speaking against the background of a rapidly arising Europe, the prime minister asked Parliament to enact an emergency powers bill, giving the government virtual dictatorial authority to deal with any emergency.

"The cheers that rose from all sides of the House at the close of this 33-minute speech indicated quick acceptance of his demand. As we think, so shall we act," Chamberlain said solemnly and the House rose and cheered.

The prime minister said Hitler's vision to a free hand in eastern Europe without interference came as a reply in a message delivered to the German chancellor yesterday through the British embassy due in Berlin, Sir Neville Henderson.

DENIES WAR BLAME—This message, Chamberlain said, related Britain's own position. "The German chancellor's reply includes what amounts to a restatement of the German thesis that eastern Europe is a sphere

Hitler Set to Fix War 'Deadline'

BERLIN, Aug. 24—A Nazi radical today ruled Danzig, ready at a moment's notice to turn the Free City over to Hitler, Albert Forster, Hitler henchman in the trouble zone, took over the post of chief of state in Danzig in a coup that government spokesmen here said was "establishment of an authoritarian regime" directly controlled by Hitler.

This move paves the way for direct "annexation" or union of the Free City with Germany.

F. D. PEACE PLEA SENT ITALY'S KING

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (INS)—President Roosevelt today appealed directly to King Victor Emanuele of Italy to bring influence to bear on Germany to maintain European peace.

Announcement of the peace message was made by Secretary of State Hull at a special press conference two hours before Mr. Roosevelt was scheduled to arrive in the capital to take personal command of United States emergency plans.

The President's peace request was dispatched yesterday to American Ambassador William Phillips for transmission today.

who assured him it would be given consideration.)

"Again a crisis in world affairs makes clear the responsibility of heads of nations for the fate of their own people and indeed of humanity itself," the President's message said. "It is because of traditional accord between Italy and the United States and the ties of consanguinity between millions of our citizens that I feel that I can address Your Majesty in behalf of the maintenance of world peace.

"It is my belief that of the American people that Your Majesty and Your Majesty's govern-

KENNEDY WARNS TOURISTS

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP)—United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy today issued a statement advising all American tourists in the British Isles to sail for home at once.

American officials estimated there are now between 3000 and 4000 American tourists in England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales.

The ambassador's statement said that "in a day or two" it might not be possible for them to get sailings for New York and warned them that if they stayed they might be subjected to "inconvenience, possibly danger."

The ambassador talked to Prime Minister Chamberlain this morning and went to the air ministry

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24—The United States embassies in London, Paris and Berlin today advised all Americans in England, France and Germany to leave as soon as possible.

To see Sir Kingsley Wood, the air minister, at noon. He issued the statement after returning from the air ministry and then went to the House of Commons for the emergency session.

The text of Kennedy's statement: "The international situation has reached the point which makes it advisable for American travelers to leave England.

"We feel it is our duty to warn those Americans now in England that, by remaining longer, they are running the risk of inconvenience and possibly danger. They are also contributing to the anxiety of those at home and will, if an emergency develops, make it harder for those compelled to remain.

"Moreover, we must remember that a large body of foreign tourists, would be a considerable burden, in the event of trouble, upon the resources of a country faced with grave problems of its own.

"All those who do not have any important reason for remaining are, therefore, urged to return to the United States without delay. Accommodations are now available on most vessels. The same may not be true in another day or two.

"This notice is addressed at this time particularly to tourists. All Americans who do not leave are requested to register immediately at the nearest American consulate if they have not already done so."

Lion Loose, So Ship Sends SOS for Guns

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—The S. S. Amazon, off Cape May, N. J., wirelessly today that a lion had broken loose from a cage of wild animals bound for Venezuela and that the ship had no guns on board.

The coast guard station at Cape May quickly messaged the ship that it would send a boat with two lion trainers from Clyde Beatty's animal circus, playing at Atlantic City, N. J., and meet the Amazon at a point below Cape May.

The Amazon's distress message intercepted by the coast guard said, in part:

"Any ship in the neighborhood with guns on board... lion broken out..."

The New York Coast Guard station first got in touch with Beatty's trainers (Bring 'Em Back Alive!) Buck, who said:

"They'll have to shoot him. Can't catch a lion loose on a ship."

In the meantime two of Beatty's trainers volunteered to attempt to catch the lion alive.

As a precaution, the Coast Guard also planned to bring guns.

Arthur P. White Sq. Okeyed by Tobin

With war clouds threatening in Europe, Mayor Tobin signed an order today designating a square in Dorchester as Arthur P. White sq. in memory of a deceased veteran of the last war.

White, a legless veteran, was prominent in American Legion activities and at one time was commander of Thomas J. Roberts post of Dorchester. The new Arthur P. White sq. is at the junction of Columbia rd., Geneva ave. and Brinsley st.

Speaking before the Marine Corps League convention at the Copley-Plaza, the Rev. Gordon C. Reardon, former marine and executive director of Boston Chapter, Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League, roundly scored the Ancients for chartering a German liner for their September cruise.

In no time at all, however, Minister Reardon was answered sharply by Maj. James W. H. Myrick, past commander of the Ancients and a colonel in the U. S. army reserve.

"SHOWDOWN" PROMISED

After asserting that 20 years have passed since the World War and charging that the Rev. Reardon "is merely seeking notoriety," Major Myrick left his office for the Copley-Plaza Hotel.

The major said that at the hotel there would be a "showdown" with Minister Reardon.

Known for years as "the fighting marine pastor," the Rev. Mr. Reardon, who once held the pastorate of the First Universalist Church of Saugus, told the Marine Corps League at the convention:

"We have in this Commonwealth a venerable military organization whose history is fraught with heroism and sacrifice. Down the corridor of the years this honorable company of patriots has had upon its roster some of the most distinguished names on the American panorama."

"FOSLIZED FUSILIERS"

"Today we find this once important fighting outfit a mere group of fossilized fusiliers who, rumor has it, have been known to boast that they represent the greatest drinking organization on the face of the earth."

"The winter maneuvers of these scuffle warriors are confined to pushing little round chips across the green terrain of the poker table and—put it down as an unconfirmed rumor—as a unit they cannot march from King's Chapel to the golden dome on Beacon Hill, a distance of a quarter of a mile, without first going to the Parker House for a rum ration."

Sharkey's Wife Is Fined $50

Mrs. Dorothy D. Sharkey, 37, of Stone ave., Chestnut Hill, wife of Jack Sharkey, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, was fined $50 in Waltham court today on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident after causing property damage.

Judge Frederic A. Crafts found her not guilty of charges of drunkenness and operating an auto while under the influence of liquor. Waltham police charged she failed to stop, July 24, after her auto had knocked down a street sign.

Sharkey also figured in the news today when Newton police notified him to restrain his dog after Miss Ellen Moran of Ackers ave., Brookline, complained the animal had bitten her.

Mrs. Jones also obtained custody of their only child, William Allen Jones, two. The couple were married at Portsmouth, N. H., July 29, 1934, and had lived in Brooklyn, N. Y., and Springfield before coming to Boston.

Mrs. Jones testified her husband brought home food but no money and often demanded she obtain money for him from her family.

Mrs. Jones' mother, Mrs. Ethel Hutchinson, testified she saw Jones tear off his wife's clothing and, on several occasions, saw black and blue marks on her body. Charles Shoulton of Taylor st., South End, received a divorce from his wife, Penelope, now of Braintree, on grounds of infidelity. Testifying in his behalf was his wife's sister, Sophie Gasparis of Union st., Brooklyn, who told the court details of a visit to her sister's home during which she said she saw a man there who was not her sister's husband. The Shoultons were married May 3, 1935.

Alma Blomquist of Washington st., Jamaica Plain, was granted a divorce from her husband, Carl, on ground of desertion. She testified she had not lived with her husband in six years. A witness in her behalf was Mrs. Anna Demoskey, a daughter.

New Drug Routs Dental Chair Horrors

CHICAGO, Aug. 21 (AP)—A new drug has banished pain from the dentist's chair but not an occasional "ouch."

More than $500,000 injections of the recently-developed anesthetic have proved it to be a "definite improvement" over others, the American Medical Association's health magazine, Hygiene, said today.

The report, made by Dr. Fred R. Adams, a New York dentist, said: "Until recently painless dentistry was largely a myth, a phrase used by charlatans and quacks to lure unwitting victims to their fly-by-night offices."

"But today, every major dental operation can be performed without the least pain to the patient," it is imagined suffering.

The drug which makes short work of pain has this chemical name: Alpha Ammonio Benzoyl Benzate Hydrochloride.

MARINE VETS BACK HEARST 'STAY OUT OF WAR' POLICY

By JAMES F. McENANEY

A New England counter expression to war threats from Europe was on record today when the Marine Corps League, in convention at the Hotel Copley Plaza here, endorsed the "Keep America Out of War Policy" advocated by William Randolph Hearst.

The ex-Marines and present members of the Marine Corps, with Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion of the United States and an ex-Marine captain, as one of the active sponsors, also endorsed resolutions condemning Communism and Nazism, urging American neutrality, but favored increased armaments and religious tolerance.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION

The text of the resolution endorsing Mr. Hearst's plan to keep this country out of what may be an inevitable war was as follows:

"Whereas William Randolph Hearst, through his metropolitan newspapers, cooperates with the Marine Corps League in sponsoring a program of 'Keep America Out of War'.

"Whereas this program has done much to instill into the minds of the American citizenry and our government representatives a love for our American ideals and traditions and prevent a recurrence of the effects from the World War.

"Therefore Be It Resolved—That the Marine Corps League, in session at Boston, do heartily commend, congratulate and thank William Randolph Hearst, for his determined efforts to prevent America's entry into any foreign entanglement and 'Keep America Out of War'.

"And May It Be Further Resolved—That the thanks of this convention be conveyed to the Hearst newspapers of Boston, namely the Boston Evening American, Boston Daily Record and the Boston Sunday Advertiser that the personnel of these three papers be thanked also for their patriotic services in making this slogan a success and their untiring efforts in behalf of the Marine Corps League's National Convention."

PRIZE DIES PROBE

The Marine Corps League expressed alarm at the steady growth of group movements in every city and town, whose only purpose is to destroy the American system of government, and commended the patriotic work of the Dies committee in exposing the widespread ramifications of anti-American propaganda, and its dangerous threat to our institutions.

Resolutions pointed out that subversive influences were at work in our public schools, educational institutions and group movements, which beguile innocent citizens into memberships with false fronts and misleading purposes.

N. E. TROOPS WIN POINT IN DAWN 'WAR' DRIVE

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 24—Rushed up from reserve in a spectacular dawn offensive, New England National Guard troops pushed a stubborn force of regular army fighters back across the Saranac river today and protected a crossing for allied divisions.

The New Englanders, joined with New York national guardsmen as the "black" army, were simulating an advance on New York city, defended by the regulars or "blue" army, in the final mimic warfare of the First Army's two-week encampment.

The reserves, Connecticut's 450 Division, were rushed up just before dawn from 12 miles to the rear and thrown at the left flank of the defenders under a heavy artillery barrage.

As machine gun companies in assault boats moved across the river, with engineers hastily throwing up two pontoon bridges in their wake, the 26th Massachusetts and 27th New York divisions launched simultaneous attacks along the six-mile front.

The crossing was effected in the face of repeated thrusts by the mechanized 7th Cavalry from Fort Knox, Ky.

MOVE TO FRONT
Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, commander of the First Army and the "Blacks," called every truck in his command into service to move the 450 from Beekmantown, 12 miles back of the front, to the jumping off zone.

Meanwhile, Major Gen. James A. Woodruff, commander of the "Blues," spent the night consolidating his forces, which were generally successful in the fighting which developed yesterday when the "points" of three columns in which they were advancing contacted the invaders' advance guard.

For the purpose of the tactical problem it is assumed that the "Blacks" have landed on the New England coast and are attempting to capture Plattsburg as a delaying center before moving on New York.

Because of the tense European situation, Lieut. Col. Andrzej Chomic, Polish Army attaché and one of the 17 foreign observers here, left the sham battle zone hurriedly last night.

3 Dead, 1 Dying in Auburn Crash As Truck Hurls Sedan 100 Feet

AUBURN, Aug. 24—A New York-bound ten-ton trailer truck collided with a light sedan in Dewey sq. here early today and hurled it 100 feet, killing three of its occupants and injuring another seriously.

The truck—its driver severely injured and pinned into his smashed cab—ripped through a signal tower, crashed through a guard rail and plunged down a 20-foot embankment, bringing up against a building, its motor telescoped.

The dead are Almon Saar, 55, Shrewsbury, driver of the sedan; Ernest J. Tessier, 56, Worcester, and Mrs. Annie Medina, 50, Shrewsbury.

On the danger list at City Hospital and not expected to live is Tessier's wife, Julia, 46, who suffered a fractured skull, hip, nose and multiple cuts.

Peter Stanglis, 28, Washington ave., Revere, driver of the truck, was lifted from the cab of the truck after police had worked for an hour and a half with axes and crowbars.

For a time it was thought that he was dead, but when he recovered consciousness he talked with rescuers as they worked to free him. He is expected to recover.

The sedan was jacked up to remove the body of Saar.

Police said the truck was bound for New York on Route 42 and that the sedan made a left turn into Dewey sq. into the path of the heavy vehicle.

Faces Grilling In Payroll Grab

Arrested at gunpoint after a chase by police through crowded North End streets, John Salvati, 27, of Hanover street, was held today for questioning in connection with the theft of a handbag, containing a $312 payroll, from a Mattapan woman.

The complainant was Mrs. Marie Mori, 34, of Wellington Hill at Mattapan. She is employed as cashier in a grocery store in Commercial st., North End. Mrs. Mori, according to police, was entering a bank in Salem st., with the day's receipts of the store, when she was suddenly seized and hurled violently to the pavement. She later identified Salvati as her assailant.

Her cries for help resulted in a chase throughout the entire section. Police arrested Salvati on the roof of a building in Wigget st. and found on the stairway of the building a pocketbook containing $312 in cash and checks.

Genuine Bonds Stall Ring Quiz

Federal authorities today speeded preparations in their case against three alleged bond racketeers before the federal grand jury next week.

As bank clerks, Boston police and government agents were ready to testify against Josef Schmidt, Carl Eckert and Eileen Cooke, all of Boston, charged with trading counterfeit Kingdom of Belgium bonds to local banks. Asst. U. S. Atty. William T. McCarthy hinted that the case might have to be postponed until a further sitting, unless certain phases are cleared up by Tuesday.

Discovery that some of the Kingdom of Belgium coupon bonds alleged to have been traded by Schmidt and Eckert are genuine, that they had been stolen and the serial numbers skillfully altered, was the latest development in the probe of the racket.

G-Men and secret service agents, insisted, however, that the majority of the bonds seized are counterfeit, but admitted the presence of genuine bonds was a baffling feature.

Guard 'Model' Youth Held in Aunt Slaying

HAVERHILL, Aug. 24—Close police guard was kept today around the hospital cot of William J. Ray, 23, confessed "model" youth slayer of his spinster aunt, Mary A. Ray, 78, as he called from a suicide attempt.

Facing a formal charge of murder, young Ray will be given a sanity test, enabling investigators to check his incoherent story of a "nervous disorder" from which he suffered.

Found unconscious in her Grove st. home with stab wounds in the stomach, Miss Ray died two hours later as physicians prepared to operate at Hale Hospital.

Meanwhile the nephew, found with both wrists and ankles bleeding from deep slashes, was baring the story of the slaying to police, bubbling of his illness and that his aunt "wouldn't let me go to a sanitarium."

TWO RAZORS FOUND

In the home police found two razors they said Ray used in a suicide attempt after the assault and a bloody carving knife which they claimed was the weapon in the attack.

Celebrated as a former Duquesne University football star, Raye found work in his home city as a grocery clerk and rose to manager of a chain store. He quit his job Monday, on a physician's advice, he told police, and had been ordered to enter a sanitarium for a rest cure.

TRAGEDY DISCOVERED

At home the plan met the opposition of his aged aunt who kept house for the young man and his father, David T. Ray, and a series of arguments preceded the stabbing, police said.

The tragedy was discovered by Mrs. Michael Lonigan, a neighbor, who saw the youth sitting on the front porch holding out his bleeding arms.

Ray starred in several sports at

DESCRIBES SLAYING OF CHUM

MONTROSE, Cal. Aug. 24 (INS)

Richard Jensen, 14, farmer in mate of a reform school, declared today that he took the life of his chum, Billy Williams, 15, because "he called me a convict."

"After I hit him a couple of times everything went black," young Jensen added.

So calmly that officers referred to him as "the tough little mug," the boy confessed not only the killing but continued.

"There was a hole in the yard nearby. I was going to bury him there when night came, but my mother spoiled that by walking up where I had pegged him when the cops called me an ex-con."

"We were working on a little boat we were building when it happened."

"I suppose I cut Billy and put wire around his neck just because the wire and knife happened to be there. You see, they were the tools I was using. Now, I ain't sorry, I don't know how I feel."

The court ordered the boy committed to the psychopathic ward at General Hospital pending further investigation.

P. O. Workers in Election Today

Election of national officers will mark the closing session of the 28th annual convention of the National Association of Post-office Supervisors at Hotel Statler today.

A close contest for the office of president is forecast with Michael F. Fitzgerald of Philadelphia, the present incumbent, running for reelection against John J. Lane of San Francisco, the present first vice-president.

As the convention drew close to adjournment yesterday, Local 100, Boston Federation of Post-office Clerks, elected representatives to the national clerks' convention, which opens at Houston, Tex., on Labor Day.

John A. Kelley, president; William A. Collins, recording secretary, and Thomas F. O'Brien, Andrew J. Mangano and Francis R. Welch were designated as delegates to the national convention.

A special meeting of Local 100 will be held at the Parker House tonight to draw up resolutions for presentation to the convention.

G-Men Grill 5 In Mystery Raid

WICKFORD, R. I., Aug. 24—

Three men and two pretty women were seized in a raid at Charlestown today and secretly whisked to the state police barracks here for questioning by G-men.

Four hours later, authorities refused to make any statement save that five persons were held for questioning.

Shortly before the arrests, information was flashed over police teletype concerning a brown sedan of Missouri registration, believed to be the machine in which the men and women were travelling.

GUARD FRAMINGHAM 'DEATH STILL'

FRAMINGHAM, Aug. 24.—Police today posted a guard about the isolated farmhouse in the Saxonville section where one man was killed, his brother passed into unconsciousness and two firemen collapsed from fumes set up by fermenting mash.

The accident was unusual and chemists today were seeking to determine its exact cause. The dead man is Eugene Dalamore, 31, father of three young children, was found in the basement of his home by his wife, Anna.

Unable to drag her husband from the basement, she telephoned her brother-in-law, Samuel, 24, who collapsed when he went to the rescue.

The dead man and his brother were pulled out by Dr. Clarence Bourill, who was called to the scene.

He pronounced Eugene Dalamore dead and sent Samuel to the Framingham Union Hospital, where he was in a serious condition today.

When firemen attempted to enter the basement with gas masks they found that the fumes penetrated the masks. Capt. Henry Ryan, acting fire chief, and Hoeman Anthony Scagnelli were dragged to safety by comrades.

Mrs. Dalamore told police her husband was about to lose his home to a bank last week and rented part of it to two men.

Police found apparatus for a still in the basement and the mash. The still was not in operation.

Double Tragedy Hits Damrosch Daughters

Death had struck twice today in the family of Walter Damrosch, with two daughters of the famous orchestra conductor as mourners.

Sidney Howard, 48, noted Pulitzer prize-winning playwright and husband of Leopoldine Haine Damrosch died beneath the wheels of a tractor at his Berkshire summer home in Tyringham.

At the same time Mrs. Alice Damrosch was informed of the death of her former husband, Dudley Francis Wolfe, 43, well known in Boston and New York society and yachting circles, on a mountain climbing expedition in Tibet.

Today Conductor Walter Damrosch flew from his summer home at Bar Harbor, Me. to join his daughter Leopoldine in Tyringham.

Howard's death occurred as he was working on the farm which was his hobby. Cranking a tractor, the machine lunged forward crushing him.

Commander of a flying squadron during the World War and subsequently one of the leading American writers for the stage, Howard was a native of Oakland Calif., and a graduate of the University of California.

WROTE MANY PLAYS

He came east to study with the late Prof. George Pierce Baker in the latter's famous "47 Workshop" at Harvard.

When the war broke out Howard left Harvard and like his late brother-in-law, Wolfe, went abroad to drive an ambulance. He later

Dies Probers Hunt 'Silver Shirt' Chief

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP) — House investigators searched today for William Dudley Pelley, silver shirt leader, cited by Chairman Dies (D.) of Texas as attempting to sabotage the work of the committee on un-American activities.

Disclosure by a committee source that a subpoena has been issued for the Asheville, N. C., publisher-lecturer came shortly after Dies declared the Silver Shirt Organization had attempted to place an undercover agent on the committee's staff.

The committee yesterday recommended federal "prosecutive action" against Fraser Gardner, 37, Washington political researcher, employed by Pelley's "Skyland Press" while seeking a job as investigator with the Dies group.

"This is a clear case," Dies said, "that Pelley and his Silver Shirts have undertaken by this method to secure information in advance and sabotage this investigation."

Gardner, flushed and endlessly puffing cigarettes, appeared before the committee yesterday in a surprise investigation of his relations with Pelley.

He acknowledged that he knew Pelley, but he contended there was a distinction between being employed by Pelley and by the Skyland Press.

Pelley never paid him, he declared, adding that he received about $30 a week after being hired by Hial Cummings, cartoonist for a Pelly publication. Outside the hearing, Gardner said emphatically:

"I am not a silver shirt. I never was, and I never will be. What I was asked to do was perfectly ethical and perfectly legal."

Dies contended in a statement, however, that the witness had "concocted and denied material facts" to get a job with the committee.

Dies said several senators and high government officials had recommended Gardner, including Senator Tydings (D.) of Maryland.

Senator Hunt Heads Old Colony Probers

Meeting at the State House today, a special commission created by the recent Legislature to investigate the affairs of the Old Colony R. R., elected Sen. Jarvis Hunt of North Attleboro as its chairman.

Rep. William A. Jones, of Barnstable, Republican floor leader of the House, was chosen vice-chairman.

After the meeting, Sen. Hunt said the commission would go to New Haven, Ct., federal court Monday where Judge Carroll B. Hincks will hear the petition of Gov. Saltonstall for indefinite postponement of the New Haven road's order to close 47 Old Colony stations on Sept. 24.

Also present at the meeting were two commission members, named by the resolve which created the organization, Atty-Gen. Paul A. Dever, and William J. Keefe, chief engineer of the Public Utilities Department, serving in place of Utilities Commission Chairman Frank McKeown.

Commission members appointed by Gov. Saltonstall were former Dist. Atty. Thomas C. O'Brien of Suffolk County, Eben G. Towns of Brockton and A. Perry Richards, Plymouth town counsel.

Other legislative members of the body were Rep. Rudolph F. Kna of Millis, and Rep. James J. Melles of Chatham.

Charles Currier, of Medford, was appointed secretary of the commission.

Soviet Anti-Faith Acts Stun N.Y. Clergy

Special to Boston Evening American.
NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Some reports indicating removal of religious officers to combat anti-religion were considered today by New York's leading clergymen with mingled horror and hope—horror at the prospect of new brutalities and hope at the implication that religious still lives in Russia despite previous anti-church drive.

A survey found representations of the three major faiths here—Protestant, the official Communist newspaper in Moscow, had demanded front clamping down on religious worship throughout Russia.

Protestants, complaining that religious still permitted in the land of Communism, accused the commission of education, newspapers, who among and party organization of lack in the fight to banish religion.

The New York clergy while disturbed by the news, found some encouragement in the Soviet admission that the religion of "false gods" has not been able to suppress the worship of God.

Pointing to the survival of religion through the ages, they declared that Communism was wrong in its own down in attempting to drive out God. Some of the comments follow.

The Rev. John LaFarge, 42, associate editor of "American" national Catholic weekly.

"This is an indication that the Russian government is moving with continued opposition to its anti-religious policy. It may be a warning for some predatory scheming and, in order to place the blame on some one, they have chosen the old religion issue."

The Rev. C. Donald Wagner, pastor of the Union M. E. Church, "I think unquestionably the signing of the Russian agreement of non-aggression will bring about a renewed attack upon religion in both countries. It will continue with more aggressive efforts. In totalitarian countries organized religion of whatever faith is having a harder time than ever before. I think the opposition is very powerful, and Christians throughout the world recognize its force and do what they can to resist the opposing forces."

The Rev. Ignatius Donnelly, president of the Catholic Union.

"Do not sugar. The league of the godless have not succeeded. Every six months or so they get the urge. They know that religion is growing. This is the usual manner against religion that happens every once in a while. They will succeed when they pluck the stars from the heavens. It leaves the liberals in this country hanging out on a limb."

Rays Aid Care Of Seafood

Seafood of the future may be kept from spoiling for longer periods of time through the use of ultra-violet rays as a result of experiments conducted by the Bureau of Fisheries.

In the first attempt at irradiation of fish in the United States, the preliminary tests by the bureau showed that an irradiation of one hour on each side markedly reduced the bacterial count at had-dock fillets, without significantly affecting the appearance, texture, or dry matter content. Moreover, this comparatively long period of irradiation had no bad no adverse effect on the nutritive value of the protein but increased the vitamin D content of the fillets.

An evidence of the efficiency toward preventing early spoilage, the experiments revealed that only a two-minute exposure to the ultra-violet rays resulted in the destruction of four out of five bacteria of bacteria taken from haddock fillets.

Since fish is a highly perishable food, and the problem of preventing bacterial composition is ever present, any means which can profitably be used to retard bacterial growth is of great importance in the handling of fishery products, the report of the bureau explains.

Two commercial applications of irradiation by ultra-violet light are possible, it was revealed by the tests. First, it may be used immediately after production, to reduce the incidental contamination by bacteria. Secondly, the fillets may be irradiated after arrival at the retail store. In this case, the irradiation by ultra-violet light would be expected to decrease the contamination acquired during storage, shipping and possibly during display on retail counters.

COUNCIL HAS TOBIN TAX PLAN

A special meeting of the city council was called today by Mayor Tobin to consider a plan by which Boston's tax rate may be cut $1.10.

The mayor's plan, it was disclosed, is to borrow $1,500,000 toward the sum the city must raise to pay off its share of last year's un-raised state deficit.

Mayor Tobin will submit the loan order for a first reading by the Council and final action is expected by that body on Monday. The mayor was silent as to his tax plan, but city financial experts with whom he has been conferring predicted that when he reveals the tax rate about September 1, it would be near $40, as compared with $41.30 last year.

The loan would be spread over five years, beginning in 1940. Last year's unraised state deficit was $9,000,000, an item declared too late to be included in the tax rate of cities and towns.

Pope in Last Minute Peace Appeal Today

ROME, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Pope's appeal for peace, which he made today, was the last of his appeals for peace. He said that the world was in a state of "grave danger" and that the only way to avoid war was by a "general agreement" between all nations. He said that the Pope's appeal was not a threat, but a "plea for peace" and that he hoped that it would be accepted by all nations. He said that the Pope's appeal was the last of his appeals for peace and that he hoped that it would be the last of his appeals for peace.

DUCE LAYS HIS PLANS FOR WAR

ROME, Aug. 24 (AP).—The Italian government today announced that it had accepted any further freight shipments from Italy.

Tourist agencies said few Americans were leaving the country, although the American consulate advised tourists to depart if they had no particular reason for staying.

Japs to Move On White Colony

HANKOW, Aug. 24 (AP).—Six thousand Japanese soldiers were reported today to have been landed in the Shanghai area in preparation for the "atomic action" against the international settlement, garrisoned by nearly 30,000 American, British, French and Italian soldiers.

The sources of this report, the most reliable foreign quarters, said the landing took place yesterday and that the Japanese had been planning for some time to occupy the settlement, which they called "the white colony."

The quarters said the Japanese previously had postponed action because of Soviet Russian German rejection of a nonaggression treaty which left them uncertain of Japan's position in the world today.

British Cruiser Waits War Orders

HART HARBOR, Me., Aug. 24.—Her officers closely watching the European situation, the British cruiser Berwick, with her gun crew up, waited here today for orders to sail for any place in the western world.

The war cruise, all shore leave was cancelled for 450 members of the crew while only a few were permitted to go ashore.

Day

Here it is almost Labor Day. Vacation days are over. Schools start soon and the Smiths are coming back home to buy.

You remember the Smiths, Mr. Merchant. They are those average Boston families that buy 85% of the merchandise you sell. They have been away for the summer. The kids have had a swell two months, swimmin', boatin', picnickin' and such. But school begins and again the kids need shoes, clothing and things.

The Smiths, too, need or want things. New furniture to make the house more livable—new clothes for the changing season—new drapes—new pots and pans—lots of the new things that you have to sell.

The Smiths read the Record-American. In fact more of them read these newspapers than any other in Boston. There's a whale of a buying market ready for you waiting to be invited to your store.

The Record-American will cultivate this buying urge through planned promotion designed to bring business to your store. Your advertising in the "Back Home to Buy" number on Sept. 5th will insure your share of this volume.

LEOPOLD ASKS F. D. PEACE BID

BRUSSELS, Aug. 24 (AP).—The hope that King Leopold's forceful appeal for peace will lead to a peace agreement is expressed by President Roosevelt and other heads of nations, it was said by pressmen in Brussels today.

It was official here that there was no expectation that Belgium monarch's statement would result in any peace agreement from the heads of other nations would take up his appeal.

The King, urging the antagonistic powers to enter an open negotiation of their differences, firmly expressed hope that heads of other nations would take up his appeal.

Sources close to the throne said the King's address concerning the seven little powers conference was in no way intended to make peace in the March of 1939.

COMPLICATED international situation in Europe is explained in above map showing Poland, virtually encircled by real and potential enemies, firm in determination to battle Germany on territory demand. Nazis hold upper hand by reason of geography, Poland's allies France and England on y having Rumania, a question mark in diplomatic game, as a "highway" through which to aid their beleaguered ally.

Polish mobilization reports filed by the city.

"A Polish division has encircled Danzig," highest military quarters informed International News Service.

"The troops have converged upon the city from the west."

"The impression has been created that a coup is imminent."

In a lengthy dispatch from the city, the official German news agency, DNB, said that full mobilization in the Polish corridor was in progress.

Polish soldiers in the past of the city were sent off to the east of the city to fight in the Polish army's defense.

Reports from Gleiwitz said that Polish military authorities in East Upper Silesia had ordered secret mobilization during the night.

TROOPS CLOG ROADS

Throughout this area, gendarmes carried mobilization orders to individual homes. Hundreds of recruits were routed from their beds and in some cases from their homes.

All upper Silesia, it was reported, was in a state of emergency. The mobilization included not only reservists but also able-bodied citizens normally liable to military service.

All available private trucks and automobiles were requisitioned by the army.

Polish authorities, the German press said.

Meanwhile, Foreign Minister Ribbentrop in Berlin said that the German government had no intention of signing a peace treaty with Poland.

The Soviet government, Ribbentrop said, had no intention of signing a peace treaty with Poland.

Polish Drive For Funds Opens Here

CENTRAL FALLS, R. I., Aug. 24 (AP).—A drive to get a contribution of one dollar from each of the 100,000 Polish residents of the United States for the defense of Poland began here today.

The Blackstone Valley committee for Polish national defense named a group of five to communicate with "Radio Narutowicz," the Polish national committee in London, asking that organization to select a Polish defense day in America.

There are about 10,000 persons of Polish descent in the Blackstone Valley, comprising in this city, Pawtucket, Woonsocket, a number of the five men committee said.

MASSACHUSETTS GUARD

On Duty With Regular Army at Plattsburg

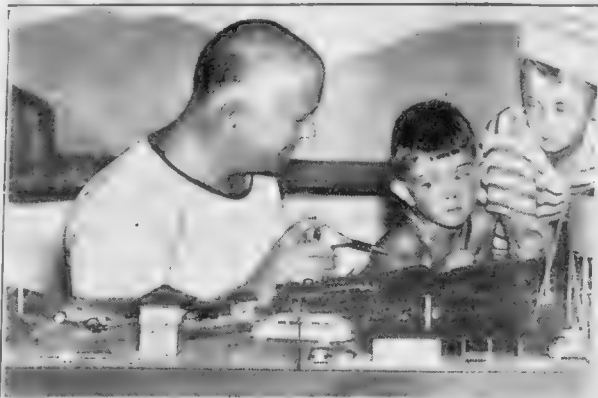

101st Engineers—Massachusetts National Guardsmen are helping to make Army history at Plattsburg where 52,000 soldiers are engaged in war maneuvers. And a tough job has the Engineers...

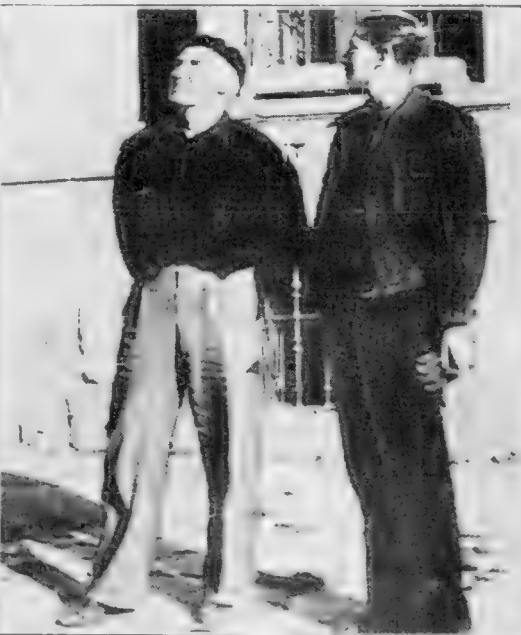

Regiment in Camp—All the work and worry of modern war is the lot of the 101st Engineers... who dig trenches, erect bridges, do odd jobs.

Sleepy—While police and family hunted him, Leo Marino, 6, of Somerville, calmly slept in back seat of strange car. He wasn't awakened until he reached Roxbury. The driver was as surprised as he.

A Hobby—With 250 feet of track, Lawrence A. Wogan of Brookline spends his spare time manipulating his railroad system... as his sons, Donald, 4, and Robert Bruce, 10, look on. Wogan built the system himself.

Freedom Ahead—Harold Dahl (left), Yankee flier taken in Spanish civil war, waits release in San Sebastian prison... owing his life (and hoped-for) liberty to his wife, singing Edith Rogers.

1. The first step is to identify the key components of the system. This includes understanding the hardware, software, and network architecture.

2. The second step is to analyze the system's performance. This involves monitoring various metrics such as response time, throughput, and error rates.

3. The third step is to identify potential bottlenecks. This can be done by analyzing the system's performance data and identifying areas where the system is slowing down or experiencing errors.

4. The fourth step is to implement optimizations. This may involve upgrading hardware, optimizing software, or reconfiguring the network.

5. The fifth step is to test the optimized system. This involves running the same performance tests as in step 2 to ensure that the optimizations have been effective.

6. The sixth step is to document the results. This includes creating a report that details the findings of the analysis, the optimizations implemented, and the results of the testing.

7. The seventh step is to implement the optimizations in a production environment. This involves deploying the optimized system to the live environment and monitoring its performance.

8. The eighth step is to evaluate the results. This involves comparing the performance of the optimized system to the original system to determine the effectiveness of the optimizations.

9. The ninth step is to iterate. This involves repeating the process as needed to further optimize the system.

10. The tenth step is to maintain the system. This involves regularly monitoring the system's performance and making adjustments as needed to ensure optimal performance.

Human Side of News -1-

By EDWIN C. HILL

JOSEPH L. BRENN, watchdog of the films, decrees that hereafter there shall be no drunken, rowdy or generally offensive newspapermen in the pictures.

Why the may ask, is it not Mr. Breen's ruling based on the simple fact that newspapermen are not like that? His answer is that it is not. He says that he has seen many newspapermen in the pictures, and that they are not like that. He says that he has seen many newspapermen in the pictures, and that they are not like that.

This occasional movie-goer was not aware that the newspaperman had been deliberately singled out for slanders in the films. It is true that many personations were grossly distorted and unreal, although frequently the nation's young reporter was allowed to reveal a heart of gold and sometimes to emerge, like the girl from the machine, on the side of the angels, knight errant to a damsel in distress, or nemesis to the crooked gang at the city hall.

ACTUALLY, the newspaper lady may take pride in the fact that about the worst the movies could do to them was to make them a fresh bunch of young helmsmen, given to over much elbow bending. Hollywood has assailed much worse sins against other citizens, without raising any question of "industry policy."

Lawyers, for example. In the

NEWSROOM SCENE—(AS HOLLYWOOD IMAGINES IT)
 "Many Personations Were Grossly Distorted and Unreal"

pictures, the snide lawyer has always served as the vehicle for any particularly villainous rascality, especially if it involves adultery. The skunkflint banker has taken a fearful celluloid pasting. The professor is frequently caricatured as a ridiculous pedant, and the headmistresses of young ladies' boarding schools frequently have been grim viragos, about as genial as crocodiles.

Until a few years ago, the clergyman was apt to be a sanctimonious sour-puss, but the cloth had sufficient power to banish that particular portrait. As a matter of fact, much more real venality has been assailed against a dozen or more occupational groups than that charged against newspapermen. And I can't think of a film in which a newspaperman is a grafter—although we get plenty of grafting lawyers, politicians and politicians.

But this much may be said: grafting has never flourished in the newspaper game, poorly paid as it usually has been.

IT IS CONCEIVABLE that truth and art in a script might call for the portrayal of a reporter "conducting himself in a thoroughly offensive manner," as Mr. Breen puts it. "Though why, I don't know."

Still, I should like to see a standing rule in newspaper offices that members of certain groups always must be set up as unvaryingly charming people. That grows very wearisome after awhile.

Perhaps that's why the Good Book admonishes:

"Be not righteous over-much."

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt -1- -1- MY DAY

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 24 I have had so many interesting books sent me in the last few days that I would like to sit down and read without stopping. Some of them really take only a few minutes to appreciate. Among these is a book called "The Songs of San Francisco" which I think anyone going to the exposition there will enjoy having as a reminder of the trip.

Then there are George Palmer Putnam's "Soaring Wings," and three new plays which I shall read through tonight, sent me by the Dramatists Play Service, Inc., which is publishing for young people a series of plays dealing with freedom and democracy. I will tell you more about them when I have read them.

There is a pamphlet which describes the Nova Scotia cooperatives, and which is published by the Cooperative League of the U. S. A. These cooperatives are modelled on the Swedish ones and there is much of real helpful information in the pamphlet. In the People's Library, a regional library containing 1200 books, which distributes to smaller libraries, cooperative stores and credit unions in the area adjacent to Aberdeen, California and Ber-serve Mines, there hangs a motto which seems to me worthy of remembrance:

"There are four sorts of men:

"He who knows not, and knows not that he knows not, is a fool—shun him.

"He who knows not, and knows that he knows not, is a child—teach him.

"He who knows and knows not that he knows is asleep—wake him.

"He who knows, and knows that he knows, is wise—follow him."

There is also a study conducted in Rockland County, N. Y., on "Government At Work," which shows the relationship between every governmental agency of the county to the lives of the people and is a real contribution to the understanding of democracy.

In addition to all these, several interesting books have come in, but I am still reading a novel called "Rebecca" by Daphne Du Maurier, which I find quite charming, so I can not yet tell you about other books, but I think you will agree with me that I can find plenty to read during the next few days.

WE EXPECTED some guests from Maine last night, but they had motor trouble and difficulty finding the way, so they telephoned in utter discouragement about 8:30 p. m. that they would spend the night where they were and will not reach us until noon today.

The weather has been fairly warm here, as elsewhere during the last few days, and I am glad for the sake of my guests, who seem to be coming from all directions just now, that this morning is cooler.

1. The first step is to identify the problem or question that needs to be answered. This involves understanding the context and the specific requirements of the task.

2. The second step is to gather relevant information and data. This can be done through research, consultation with experts, or by analyzing existing data sets.

3. The third step is to develop a plan or strategy to address the problem. This often involves breaking the problem down into smaller, more manageable parts.

4. The fourth step is to implement the plan. This may involve conducting experiments, running simulations, or applying theoretical models to real-world data.

5. The fifth step is to evaluate the results and draw conclusions. This involves comparing the outcomes of the implementation against the original goals and objectives.

6. The sixth step is to communicate the findings. This can be done through reports, presentations, or other forms of documentation.

7. The seventh step is to reflect on the process and identify areas for improvement. This is an ongoing process that allows for continuous learning and growth.

8. The eighth step is to apply the knowledge gained to future problems. This involves using the insights and lessons learned from the current task to inform future work.

9. The ninth step is to collaborate with others. This can be done through teamwork, peer review, or by sharing knowledge with the broader community.

10. The tenth step is to stay up-to-date with the latest developments in the field. This involves regularly reading research papers, attending conferences, and participating in professional development activities.

$5400 Golf Party Opens for Hagen, Marking 25 Years of Super-Golf

(Continued, Aug. 24, A.P.) Twenty-five years ago a 22-year-old boy named Walter Hagen came out of Gloucester, N. Y., to win the national open golf title.

Today, they started tossing a four-day party, for that same Hagen, at the Manhattan Country Club where, in 1914, he won his first big championship, signifying the start of a brilliant career that brought him more than $1,000,000, and every big tour golf championship.

Hagen was teamed with another veteran, Gene Sarazen, in a round-robin battle against seven other teams of top-notch professionals, for $5400 in prize money.

Other pairs in the contest field were: Ralph Guldahl-Harold MacSpaden; Henry Picard-Johnny Reuland; Denny Shute-Ernie Harrison; Paul Hinton-Horton Smith; Byron Nelson-Dick Metz; Tommy Armour-Jimmy Thomson and Ed Dudley-Billie Burke.

Posedel's 1-Hitter Topples Pirates!

Barnabe Hill came upon a giant's cyclone of baseball's Hall of Fame Wednesday afternoon but a boulder to deep short in the 5th reached first just too late to nip the runner. The Reds' ace won himself a case of Wheaties, nevertheless, for his splendid 1 hit, 10 shutout over the Pirates. Three other famous Wheaties eaters got together in the one-way, one-way Posedel for his superlative twirling.

"Speaking of Wheaties," says Bill, "the Posedel family probably rates one. My kids, too, eat it every day and now we're all back together when I say Wheaties are well. Why don't you try Wheaties?"

All players get a lot of food and nourishment in their favorite breakfast of Wheaties. Wheaties, with plenty of milk or sugar, and some kind of fruit. This complete meal gives you the energy you need for two power.

KNUCKLE BALL COMES BACK

Bees' Sullivan Masters Baffling Pitch

By JOE CASHMAN

Ball players in general and pitchers in particular being notorious copy-cats, you can expect any day now to see the big league air filled with knuckle balls. Already the craze has started in the American League, with every pitcher envious of the success of Emil "Dutch" Leonard of the Senators and dozens of them trying to master his "butter-fly" serve.

It has carried Leonard to 14 victories, including four over the Yankees.

SULLIVAN'S MARK 500
It has enabled Sullivan to pitch 500 ball for the seventh place ball club and he is being Manager Casey Stengel as the best mound bet.

It hasn't been a common or popular delivery because: (1) It's extremely difficult to control.

Rick Ferrell, one of the better catchers, looks like somebody who's been just dragged in to his tundra wagon when Leonard starts breaking off knucklers.

At Lopez, the best receiver in the business, is repeatedly fooled by Sullivan's shorts.

WATER MASHED
However, the success of Leonard

"Sully" who tried and failed a couple of times with the Tigers before Howard Dan Howley talked the Bees into taking him from Toronto on the strength of his record of having led the International League in wins last year has a chance to become the outstanding knuckle ball artist since the days of Eddie Cicotte.

For he's the only southpaw who boasts of the butterfly delivery as his chief asset. Moreover, he has the nerve to throw it in the tightest clutches and, in Lopez and Mast, he has receivers who never refrain from calling for it through fear of being charged with a costly passed ball.

If "Lefty Joe" is right this afternoon, he'll have to give up their double midweek win over the Pirates are confident they'll run their latest win streak to three straight and possibly close in on the top of the league.

Well, start. Clonder gave the Bees a big win triumph over the Yankees.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 24. Manager Joe Cronin announced upon arrival here last night that he would send Elden Auker to the firing line for the Red Sox in the first game of the current series here tonight. Manager Jimmy Dykes named Johnny Rigney as his starting pitcher.

Players still feel that they have a chance of catching the New York Yankees, although McCarthymen won a double header from the White Sox here yesterday afternoon and moved into the lead by eight games. While the Yankees were copping the twin triumph, the Red Sox again trounced the Browns in St. Louis, 9 to 1.

Jojo Fox and Ted Williams are gradually moving into the power house spotlight that was held by Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig in the series in St. Louis. Fox and Williams showed plenty of punch, each getting a homer in the first game, while Fox had a perfect day at bat yesterday and Williams needed for two solid singles, Joe Taber also pounded out four in a like number of times at bat.

Fredrick Ostermiller, who is having a game at St. Louis and at Boston, is expected to pitch for the Yankees against the Red Sox.

It was Ostermiller's 10th victory against two defeats for the season. Boston pounded Jack Crum.

that nothing the ex-Phil throws will" baffle them as much as "Sully" knuckler will handoff the Cubes if he can make it behave.

The Bruins, defending champions, are going nowhere in particular as they arrive for their final series of the season at the Hive.

In third place, they're nine games out of first place, 2½ below second and four games above third place.

Whether or not Owner Phil Wrigley listens to the wolves, the consensus among the baseball fraternity is that Hartnett has done as well as anybody could with the material at his disposal.

Greeted by the announcement that they'd have to face Sullivan this afternoon, the Windy City invaders said that was o.k. as long as they didn't have to stack up against Barnabe Hill Posedel in the engagement.

Posedel, STREME
Posedel has no "knuckler" but it's about time he was being initiated, too. His coach shut out the Pirates in the opener of yesterday's twin but was one of the year's mound cast.

The only hit off the California sailor man was a slow roller to short which Pep Young beat out in the fifth frame. The play was so close at first that it could have been called either way. Umpire Dolly Stark ruled the "unner had beaten Warfield's throw. So Posedel lost his no hit.

"Naturally, I'd have liked to make it," said Hill after the game, "but I'll never complain when I win. I'm pitching for the Bees, not for Posedel records."

Despite only five Bees getting to first—two on errors and two on walks and none reaching second, Hill had quite a "win" over it.

It was a run off Mike Brown by Simmons and Cucinello, separated by a Hassett sacrifice bunt.

Yugos Test Anzacs in Davis Cup Singles

Already strongly favored to take the Davis Cup away from the United States in next month's Philadelphia matches, Australia's talented neimen, Adrian Quist and Jack Bromwich, were entering their interzone final matches with Yugoslavia out at Longwood this afternoon tabbed by the experts as "sure-fire winners."

From their truly brilliant play in the national doubles, the gentlemen from the Land Down Under managed to draw a surprisingly large gallery of followers to their curtain raising single matches with the Yugoslavia representatives.

Poker-face Adrian Quist was accorded a sparkling hand as he took the main stadium court to practice before facing Yugoslavia's No. 2 performer, Drago Mitić.

Later in the afternoon, Bromwich, rated as Australia's foremost singles man, was to oppose Ferenc Fancsek, Yugoslavia's singles ace and classed by the experts as "a coming world champion."

Tomorrow, the world's champion doubles duo of Quist and Bromwich should find little trouble in making the Yugoslavia combine of Kruno Kukuljević and Ferenc Fancsek, walk the plank.

And, bringing the three-day play to a conclusion, Saturday's matches are to be just the reverse of today's with Quist meeting Mitić and Bromwich hitting Drago.

Even though Australia will take most of the matches and the interzone victory, it will be interesting to watch Yugoslavia's Fancsek in action. He's a young man with genuine court ability and lots of courage.

Eng Drives New Car Tonight

With the New England championship finals only a month away, one of the fastest fields ever gathered will battle it out over the 25-lap midsize auto racing feature at the Riverside Park Speedway, Medford, this evening under flood lights.

Ed Eng whose sensational riding these past six weeks has lifted him from fourth place to lead, intends to keep that advantage tonight. Many were surprised when the "Flying Frenchman" finished no better than third in the mid-season championships last Thursday but the truth of the matter was that he was driving a borrowed car.

Anderson is the "dark horse" in the race. If Rufe can keep out of trouble during the early laps and remain in the contention, his chances of winning are better than ever, for in the closing laps he is a "riding fool" who can come from behind better than any driver in the business.

STATE CHAMPION TED ADAMS, 19, TOPS FIELD IN U. S. GOLF PAIRINGS

Teddy Adams, 19-year-old State amateur titleholder, headed a slim field in the pairings announced today for the battle next week to represent this section in the National amateur golf championship, according to the Associated Press. Bidding for six places, 35 will tee off next Tuesday at Brae Burn when the sectional qualifying round gets under way.

The Hingham champion, youngest in the history of the state, drew Ed Martin of Sandy Burr, one of the prominent golfing twins, in the first round.

Others to watch are Carl E. Nettiebladt, of Framingham, a former pro whom Adams eliminated in a 21-hole match in the state amateur tournament, and Joe Lynch, of Blue Hill, a former state titleholder.

BAY STATE TOPS FIELD

With 26 entries, Massachusetts tops the field. Three are coming from Connecticut, Charles C. Clare of Orange, and Don Sorelli and Harold M. Handley, Jr., both of Wethersfield; one from Maine, John L. Levinson, of Kennebunk Beach; two from Rhode Island, Samuel J. Neild, Jr., of Pawtucket, and J. Raymond Lenahan, of East Providence.

Other out-of-state entries are Merrill Lord of Chevy Chase, Md.; James Knott of Locust Valley, N. Y.; and John David of Indianapolis, Ind.

America's crack amateurs, who have been trying without much success since last summer to make an impression upon the pros in open competition, begin their annual fling at their private tournament next Tuesday, according to the Associated Press.

TEN GET EXEMPTIONS

The fourth largest entry list in the 43 year history of the national amateur championship, 831 low-handicap men, will try then to qualify for 160 places in the tournament proper at the North Shore Country Club, near Chicago, Sept. 11-16.

Ten others, granted exemption as former national champions or titleholders in their own country, will complete the main field. Tuesday's sectional qualifying rounds will be held on 28 courses from Boston to Los Angeles. The places, as usual, have been allotted on the basis of both size and quality of the fields.

This year's entry list is just 40 under the 1938 total. The high mark for entries was established in 1936, with 1118 entries.

The ten players granted exemption were John Langley, a member of the 1936 British Walker Cup team; P. J. Clifford, eight-time champion of Mexico; and S. B. Roberts, Welsh amateur champion in 1934 and runner-up last year.

EX-CHAMPIONS READY

Also the following ex-champions: Willie Turnesa, 1938; Francis Ouimet, 1914 and 1913; Charles Evans, Jr., 1916 and 1920; Jess W. Sewell, 1922; G. Ross Semple, the Canadian who won in 1932; John W. Fischer, 1936; and John Goodman, 1937.

The current French amateur champion, Dick Chapman, of Greenwich, Ct., also is entered, but he'll have to take his chance with the rest in the Metropolitan district field.

As usual, the home district has a big turnout. At Chicago 136 golfers will shoot 36 holes over the diffi-

Fall of Girl Stars Surprises Golfers

NOROTON, Ct., Aug. 24 (INS)—Defeat of Pam Barton, British champion, Fay Crocker, Uruguayan champion, Beatrice Barrett, the medalist from Minneapolis and Mrs. Estelle Lawson

Page, champion of 1937 and last year's runnerup, provoked surprise as the women's national golf championship reached its quarter-final stage.

Miss Barton, who won the U. S. title when she was 15, went to the 19th hole and was tipped by Charlotte Glutting, Curtis Cup player from Orange, N. J., in the third round after winning her first round a 6, a second round match.

Miss Glutting, who sprung into fame seven years ago when she defeated another British champion, End Wilson, in a similar third round match at Salem, Mass., played a deadly third shot in within a foot of the extra cup after playing out the stone wall and driving out safe.

Miss Barton had prolonged her tournament life by catching Edna Williams, daughter of Eddie Williams, Chicago professional, at the 18th and beating her at the 9th. She squared again at the 18th when Miss Glutting cast her approach into the sand but victoriously closed the case against herself when she pushed her long approach to the extra hole into the rough.

Miss Crocker was eliminated by a determined young woman from Long Beach, Cal., named Elizabeth Hicks, who won with a four at the 20th hole after having seen the four up lead she had built at the 9th dwindle to nothing. Miss Hicks had played the outgoing stretch brilliantly in 36 but required 44 for the return trip.

Mrs. Page's conqueror was Maureen Greut of Hawthorth, N. J., Curtis Cup player, and twice runner-up for the national championship, who won by 1 and 2. Mrs. Page had scored a fine 70 in putting out Nancy O. Hurst of Portland, Ore., by 2 up in the forenoon, but was six over par against Miss Greut. She reached the turn in 42 and was 2 down.

Miss Barrett came to grief in the second round. She lost 5 and 4 to Dorothy Kirby, 19-year-old star of Atlanta, Ga., who produced five birdies and was three under the card's regulations when the match ended at the 10th.

CHARLOTTE PLAY NEIGHBOR

Miss Kirby later on again went out in 36 against Jan and Marion of Greenville, S. C., and won by 4 and 3. Miss Kirby in today's round of eight is to meet Dorothy Thwing of San Francisco, runner-up five years ago, who put out Mrs. Russell C. Mann of Wauwatosa, Wis., 2 and 1 in the third round.

Miss Glutting is to play a neighbor from New Jersey, Laddie Irwin of Upper Montclair, who won, 3 and 2, from Mrs. Thomas Rudek. In the lower half of the draw the survivors were Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., Southern champion, who defeated Helen Mac Noyl of Philadelphia, 4 and 3; and Betty Johnson, Texas champion, who stopped the flight of Sheila Stuyvan of Sunningdale, Eng., 6 and 5.

MAILERS BEAT PRESSMEN

The Boston American Mailers softball team defeated the pressmen for the second straight time, 33 to 12 last night at Fenix Hill Playground.

Yesterday's Stars

By the Associated Press

BILL FOSBEDI, TONY CUCINELLO and DANNY MACFAIDEN, Bens. Fosbedi pitched one hit and two-out drive in winning run with single in 1-8 opener with very little. Macfaiden tossed nine hits for 3-1 decision in nightcap.

DICK HERRERT and DARRIO LONIGIAN, Athletics—Foster's honor and later a two-bagger in 11th best Tigers 5-3.

WABBY CRAFT, Reds—His honor slugged 3-0 victory over Phillies.

ATLEY DONALD, RILEY DICKEY and BOB GOLDEN, Yankees—Foster pitched three hits to trouble White Sox 7-2 to upset. Dickey hit three doubles to drive in five runs and Gordon whacked home with bases loaded to lead 15-hit attack in nightcap.

CHARLEY ROOT, Cubs—Healed about 100 to four in 1937 job to protect 3-3 edge over Giants.

AL BOLLINGWORTH, Dodgers—Tossed hitless ball for four innings, allowing only eight safeties altogether to whip Cardinals 3-2.

FRITZ GASTMEIERER, Red Sox—Handled Browns with four hits for 9-1 win.

Worcester Semipro Bow Out

WICHITA, Kan., Aug. 24 (AP)—Ruford, Ga., defending champion, carries its campaign for a second national semipro baseball title against a sturdy team from Silverton, Ore., at 8 p. m. (C. S. T.) tonight.

MI. Pleasant, Tex., plays Golden, Cal., in the second quarter-final clash at 10 p. m.

The field was cut to six last night with the elimination of two eastern clubs: Trenton, N. J., and Worcester, Mass. Golden ousted Trenton, 3-2, and Ruford put out Worcester, 7-2.

776,047 Attend 32 Night Games In Major Leagues

CHICAGO, Aug. 24 (AP)—Anyone still questioning the drawing power of night baseball in the major leagues may have the proof in statistics, to wit: 776,047 paid admissions to 32 games.

Carnelly Playing For 'Stars'

The "Big Three" of the Eastern College All-Stars, Swede Nelson, Lou Little, and Tuna McLaughry, completed their backfield when they received word that Ray Carnelly, Carnegie Tech, would be on hand to face the Washington Redskins at Fenway Park on September 11.

Carnelly, 6 feet 2 inch, 187 pound halfback is rated as the best ground gainer in the country. When Carnelly signified his willingness to play in the Hub, Coach Nelson started to make plans to team him with his former team-mate Jack Lee, who has already seen in his acceptance.

The All-Stars now have three of last year's Carnegie Tech players on their roster. Don Campbell, 215 pound tackle, coupled with Lee and Carnelly round out the trio from Pittsburgh.

Coach Swede Nelson now has two complete back-fields at his command, which is supposed to be all the ball-carriers he will sign. The chances are, however, that two more names will be added to the list before first practice is called at Fenway Park.

The backfield roster now reads: Jack Lee and Ray Carnelly, Carnegie Tech; Bob MacLeod, Dartmouth; Bill Osmanski, Holy Cross; Wilmoth Sidat-Singh, Syracuse; Bob Taylor, Columbia; Cliff Wilson, Harvard; and Fella Gintoff, Boston College.

Saratoga Sales Nearly Complete

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 24 (AP)—There still are a few race horses scheduled to go under the hammer at Saratoga's sales paddock, but the big annual gamble, the sales of yearlings, is practically over.

The 12th yearling sale was a dull affair which brought in $33,450. Forty-nine yearlings, consigned by L. A. Mosley, Mr. D. Buckley, Mrs. C. Smith, Dr. Ernest Miller, Hering Brothers and others, went for an average of $683, lowest of the season from the smallest crowd of buyers.

That's an average of 24,251 fans per game, and if it holds up for the nine night contests remaining on the schedule the total after-dark attendance for 1939 will be just short of 1,000,000.

Baseball historians of the future who check these figures probably will rank the current campaign as the season in which the major league "owl era" really swung into high gear.

5000 DAY AVERAGE

Compared with the 24,251 figure for nocturnal contests, the daily average attendance for week day sunlight games was placed at approximately 5000 in a survey by an electrical manufacturing company.

The Philadelphia Athletics in the American League and the National League leaders, the Cincinnati Reds, each have played the maximum number of seven night contests permitted for a season. The Athletics drew 126,922 after-dark customers, with the Reds packing in 184,964. For the Reds this represented practically a sellout for each night contest. The Athletics' average of more than 17,000 each night battle far exceeds the team's day drawing power.

At Brooklyn five night games have packed 'em in, the attendance totaling 151,000, with two games to go. Chicago fans succumbed to the lure of the "electricity extravaganza" by coming out 126,000 strong in three night games to see the White Sox in newly-lighted Comiskey Park.

Here is the night game attendance chart to date:

Attendance Games
Cincinnati (N. L.)	184,964 7
Philadelphia (A. L.)	126,922 7
Cleveland (A. L.)	136,995 5
Brooklyn (N. L.)	151,000 5
Chicago (A. L.)	126,000 3
Philadelphia (N. L.)	96,176 5
Totals	776,047 32

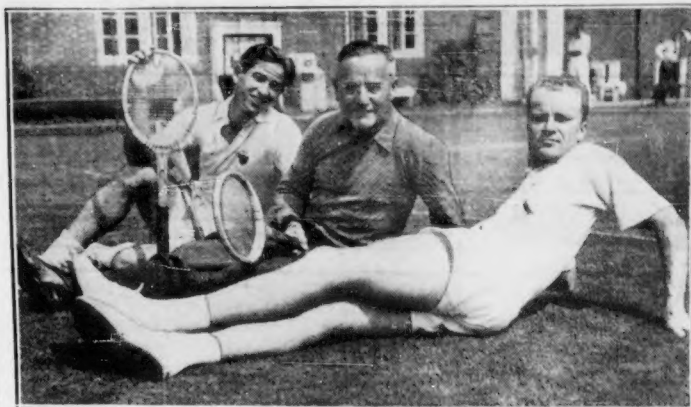

The largest night game crowd in history, 33,305, turned out June 27 when Detroit met Cleveland at the Indians' lake front stadium. The largest crowd this season was 78,732 at the afternoon double-header Aug. 6 between Cleveland and New York. The all-time record is 84,041, made at Yankee Stadium May 3, 1938, in a double-header with the Boston Red Sox.

WORCESTER OUT

WICHITA, Kan., Aug. 23 (AP)—Burling, Ga., today eliminated Worcester, Mass., 7-2, in the fifth round of the National semi-pro baseball tournament here. It was the second defeat for Worcester.

WAITING CUP WARS—Bobby Riggs, Davis Cup kingpin, left, rests with non-playing Capt. Walter L. Pate, center, and Gene Mako at Merion Cricket Club. Mako may be teamed with Riggs for the cup doubles, against the winner of the current Longwood series between the Aussies and Yugoslavs.

Dutch Meyer Says Linemen Biggest Loss

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 24 (AP)—Move over, Sammy Baugh and Davey O'Brien, you will have to make room on the Texas Christian's hot bench for Jake Odle—an it's your old coach, Leo R. (Duke) Meyer, who says so.

Meyer, who just has completed a three-day assignment as a coaching school instructor, says Odle is the best of the trio.

MISSUS LINEMEN

"Sure, I hated to lose H. Davey, but I hate losing L. R. Hale, Kl Aldrich and Forrest Rline a lot more, because I knew Jack was coming alone to take Davey's place," said Meyer.

"Odle is a 185-pound ball of fire who'll make everybody forget about O'Brien and Baugh."

Meyer visions an even stronger offensive TCU team in 1939 than that which stormed through the Southwestern conference last fall and later had O'Brien cook his famous right arm often enough to humiliate Carnegie Tech, 15 to 7, in the Sugar Bowl.

NOTRE DAME AGAIN

The national football picture? "It looks like Northwestern and Notre Dame in the midwest, Carnegie Tech in the east, Tennessee, Alabama and Tulane in the south and Southern California in the far west," Meyer summarized.

Pate Sends Out SOS

HAVERFORD, Pa., Aug. 24 (AP)—Walter L. Pate, non-playing captain of the American Davis Cup team, sent an SOS for help in selecting the four players to represent the United States in defense of the trophy here September 2, 3 and 4.

Surviving a squad of six in practice, Pate said he didn't want all the responsibility and added: "I wish more members of the Davis Cup committee would come here and look over the players. Holcomb Ward (president of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association) is coming over from New York at a great inconvenience to himself, and his cooperation is greatly appreciated for he knows 'nuts.'"

Utt's Home Run Wins for Duncan

WICHITA, Kan., Aug. 24 (AP)—Otto Utt's home run in the fifth with one on gave Duncan, Okla., a 2 to 1 victory over Mt. Pleasant, Tex., in the national semipro baseball tournament.

Larry Dee Standout In Newport Tennis

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 24 (INS)—Striking fear into the hearts of seeded players, Larry Dee, Stanford University sophomore, won a long distance fourth-round match from William Gillespie, Miami University, in the Casino Cup Tennis Tournament, 4-6, 19-17, 6-4.

The youthful Californian thus earned the right to meet Don McNeill, top-seeded, Oklahoma City.

The fourth round was marked by one disaster, when Wayne Sabin, fourth-seeded, Portland, Ore., defaulted his match to unseeded Hal Surface, Kansas City. Sabin fell on his hand, which he injured recently.

Bitzy Grant, Atlanta, second-seeded, needed only 18 games to eliminate Ernie Sutter, New Orleans, seeded 11th. Grant won, 4-6, 6-2. Steady play of top-seed, Don McNeill gave him an easy win over Robert Kamrath, Austin, Tex., 6-4, 6-4. Gilbert Hunt, Washington, D. C., was extended by Morey Lewis, Hunt won, 8-6, 6-4.

Elwood Cooke, Portland, Ore., third-seeded, ousted Henry Prusoff, Seattle, with the loss of only one game, 6-0, 6-1. Dave Freeman, Pasadena, Cal., upset Frank Guernsey, eighth-seeded, 2-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Marlboro Stages Father-Son Event

The annual father-and-son tournament will be held at the Marlboro Country Club, Saturday and Sunday. A large field is expected to compete for the two gross and two net prizes.

The tournament is an 18-hole medal handicap, selected drives, alternate shot and one-half handicap. There will be special prizes for the younger sons competing.

New York Bookies Hit for $200,000

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—Race-track bookmakers took $200,000 setback from the City Finance Department.

Special Deputy Comptroller Samuel Orr notified 30 Manhattan bookies that they had been assessed that amount in taxes and penalties on overdue taxes totaling back as far as 1934, under the 1-10th of one per cent gross receipts tax.
